

PLEC NEWS AND VIEWS

No. 15 JUNE 2000

PRINCIPAL SCIENTIFIC COORDINATOR'S REPORT	1
PLEC at mid-term: November 1999 to May 2000
Some important substantive reports	1
Cluster papers in this issue and the next	2
Other general papers	2
Progress at the demonstration sites	2
The impact of BAG and DAT	3
PLEC PUBLICATION PLANS	4
NEW HOMEPAGE	5
Other matters for report	5
NEW BOOKS	6
Helen Parsons
PAPERS BY PROJECT MEMBERS
Biodiversity as a product of smallholder's strategies for overcoming changes in their natural and social landscapes: a report prepared by the Amazonia Cluster Miguel Pinedo-Vasquez, Christine Padoch, David McGrath and Tereza Ximenes	9
Investigation into trees that combine effectively with field crops Emmanuel Owusu-Bennoah and Lewis Enu-Kwesi	20
Gender and agrodiversity in southern Ghana: preliminary findings Elizabeth Ardayio-Schandorf and Mariama Awumbila	23
Collection of yam types at Bongnayili-Dugu-Song main demonstration site in Northern Ghana Gordana Kranjac-Berisavljevic' and B.Z. Gandaa	27
Changes in the natural and social landscapes produced by the 1999 high flood near Iquitos, Amazonia Miguel Pinedo-Vasquez	31
Household structure, agrodiversity and agro-biodiversity on small farms in the Rio Grande Valley, Jamaica Elizabeth Thomas-Hope, Hugh Semple and Balfour Spence	38