Building leadership on eLearning quality through dialogue and innovation

European Foundation for Quality in eLearning

EUROPEAN FOUNDATION FOR QUALITY IN eLEARNING

The European Foundation for Quality in eLearning (EFQUEL) is the leading European network in the field of eLearning quality. We are open to institutions and individuals dealing with eLearning, open and distance education.

EFQUEL is a membership organisation with the head office based in Brussels, Belgium. With more than 60 member organizations from academia, business, public services and consultancy in more than 17 countries we provide a unique forum for information, research, innovation, exchange of best practices and networking for our members.

It is our aim to involve actors into a European community of users and experts in order to share experiences on how eLearning can be used to strengthen individual, organisational, local and regional development, digital and learning literacy, and promote social cohesion and personal development. By joining the Foundation you become a part of the largest European network of organisations and professionals dedicated to quality in the field of eLearning.

BENEFITS OF MEMBERSHIP

Joining EFQUEL will give you access to a European and global network of organisations and professionals dedicated to innovating eLearning through quality. Services are primarily designed to support the needs of users:

- Policy makers will get a grasp about new developments and trends through an observatory, monitoring and analysis service.
- Researchers will be in line with the state of the art discussion with a large group of relevant actors.
- eLearning quality related organisations access services to help them with their work on eLearning measures, benchmarks and standards.
- Decision makers can access quality guidelines and criteria on eLearning products and services and meet with providers and producers.
- eLearning users share their experiences with others in a community of practice and will be able to use the results as support for their decision-making on learning and personal development.
- Learners will use the results as support for their every day decision-making.
